

together with its Richland County Master Gardener Members present:

“Eat Dessert First: Growing Fruits and Berries in the Home Garden”

“Growing Small Fruits at Home”

Dr. Powell Smith

Clemson Lead Horticultural Agent at Lexington Extension Service

Dr. Powell Smith, national expert on small fruits and berries, earned his doctorate from the University of Georgia. The recipient of numerous local and national communication awards, Dr. Smith has been active in fruit cultivation for more than 30 years.

“Suitable Fruit Trees for the Home Landscape”

Dr. Desmond Layne

Associate Professor of Horticulture at Clemson University

Dr. Desmond Layne earned his doctorate from Michigan State University. An expert in fruit cultivation, especially peach and pawpaw, he is the author of numerous books on the subjects. Recently he was elected President of the American Pomological Society.

Wednesday, August 11, 2010

Harbison State Forest Educational Center

Sign in: 8:30 – 9:00 AM

Break: 10:15 – 10:45 AM

Session 1: 9:00 – 10:15 AM

Session 2: 10:45 – 12:00 Noon

DIRECTIONS: To find Harbison Environmental Education Forest, take I-26 to Exit 103 (Harbison Blvd.). Turn left at the light and proceed to Broad River Road. Turn right, go through one traffic light, then turn left at the Harbison State Forest road sign (5600 Broad River Road). To reach the Environmental Education Center, continue past the parking lot and bear left through the gate onto the gravel road. Take the first right onto another gravel road. The Education Center is at the top of the hill on the left.

Non-members $5

SCMMGA members – no charge

MEMBER NAME _____

MEMBERSHIP DUES (new - $35; renewal- $25)$_____

Must be a Master Gardener from the 4 county areas: Richland, Lexington, Fairfield, or Kershaw to join.

CHECK ENCLOSED$_____

Preregistration recommended for reserving your seat. Mail form and check made payable to SCMMGA, to SCMMGA, 4604 Lander Street, Columbia, SC 29206. Day of program registration is welcomed and will be on seating availability basis.

South Carolina Midlands Master Gardeners Association
111 Park Court
Lexington, South Carolina 29072

PRSRT STD
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
COLUMBIA, SC
PERMIT 896